Building Information Modeling

Northwind culture is one of collaboration and cooperation. This culture provides us with the ability to listen to our clients, subcontractors and vendors in an effort to discover the best means possible to provide the team with an outstanding construction experience. This ability to listen enables us to maintain successful working relationships with clients, subcontractors and vendors while implementing cutting-edge technology on our projects.

One such innovation is the use of Building Information Modeling (BIM). Our team has extensive project experience and clearly understands the value that BIM can add to the outcome of a project. Our team's expertise will benefit the project's planning and construction management process – from the pre-bid phase through the commissioning phase. This is accomplished by executing a properly guided team approach and by harvesting and transforming the data embedded in BIM models into valuable information. BIM can be utilized through the full life cycle of a project:

Planning:

Automated Quantity take-offs in which whatever limited information is available is fed into the model, assumptions are then made to fill out the model and then quantities (and therefore pricing) can be spit out.

Design:

- Visualization for the owner to picture their future project.
- Laser Scan Surveying (renovations, poor or no as-builts).
- Design Estimating – efficient quantity take-offs that can then be applied to cost histories.
- Clash Detection of different system.

CONSTRUCTION

Construction:

- Field Layout – planning, site logistics, visualize building footprint relative to lay-down area.
- Field Visualization – think pre-fab, an image of a virtual rack and then the rack as built in the field.
- Trade Coordination – in field clash detection, conflict resolution.
- Scheduling – sequencing, trade coordination, visualization of the progress of the job.
- O+ M Manuals – again no opportunity for information lost in translation because model of contractor and facility's maintenance “talk to each other.” (construction to maintenance translation).
- Shop Drawing – no potential for information lost in translation because models of designer and contractors “talk to each other.” (Design to construction translation).

CONSTRUCTION MANAGER

Our Construction Management (CM) team is closely involved in the planning and design phase and typically joins the project at the same time as the architect. We provide input on constructability, budget, and schedule, which reduces costs. During the construction phase, our full-time supervision team is on-site, monitoring work to assure compliance with specifications, budget and schedule.

Our CM team also acts as a liaison to the owner providing the on-going status of the project, producing monthly progress reports which detail the status of the job from start to finish.

We are familiar with all of the project delivery types, including:

- CM-at-Risk
- CM Agency
- Design Build
- Single Prime
- Multi Prime

DESIGN BUILDER

Our expertise also extends to Design-Build Construction. After first examining the specifications of the owner, we team with a design firm that has extensive experience in similar projects. This Design-Build team then acts as a cohesive unit with the designer developing the building's specifications, while we perform the constructability review.

During construction, our Design-Build team then acts as the single source of information for all design and construction issues. This creates a more effective line of communication between everyone involved with the project, which leads to a more successful project delivery system.

Diversity

Northwind is committed to developing and maintaining substantial opportunity and participation for minority. Our team is committed to utilizing our resources to identify and work with as many qualified and capable minority and disadvantaged subcontractors and suppliers as possible.

Re: Registration as an Employer

Following your recent submission of duly completed employer registration form, we are pleased to advise that your institution has been registered with the National Pension Scheme as an Employer and has been allocated Account No. 1895231, which you must quote in all transactions / correspondences with the Authority.

However, employees whose monthly gross earnings are below K15.00 or its equivalent in the old currency are exempted from contributing to the scheme.
